

Deming Awardees RBL and RSB felicitated

The National Institution for Quality and Reliability (NIQR), started in 1987, is a professional body working on no-profit basis to spread the quality culture among manufacturing and service industries in India. It is one of the founder-members of the Quality Council of India which is the apex body for monitoring quality promotion.

As a part of its quality promotion activities, NIQR has been felicitating organisations that have won the Deming Award. In 2013, the Chennai-based
