

Chennai, India, October 9, 2018 – Rane Group is proud to announce that Rane Group company, Rane NSK Steering Systems Pvt. Ltd. has been awarded the 2018 Deming Prize.

The Deming Prize, a highly prestigious quality award, is presented annually by the Union of Japanese Scientists and Engineers (JUSE) to companies that have achieved distinctive performance benchmarks through the application of Total Quality Management (TQM). The Deming Prize will be formally presented to Rane NSK Steering Systems on November 14 in Tokyo.

The team at Rane NSK Steering Systems has always been a partner of choice to their customers. The organization has built comprehensive quality systems to produce world class products. This award recognizes their process robustness and emphasis on continuous improvement.

Commenting on this achievement, Mr. L. Ganesh, Chairman of Rane Group said, “It is a proud moment for Rane NSK Steering Systems to be awarded the 2018 Deming Prize. Rane Group is privileged to be honored with Three Deming Grand Prizes and Five Deming Prizes for various business units. The TQM journey which started in the year 2000 has come full circle with all our major manufacturing businesses having secured Deming Prize. This award will further motivate the team to shift gears from operational excellence to business excellence with emphasis on result areas.”
